

Consider the roof load of photovoltaic panels

To install solar panels safely, it is essential to know the roof's load ratings. The maximum roof load capacity often specified for solar panel installations is about 40 to 60 lbs per square foot.

Discover how to safely install solar panels by calculating your roof's load capacity, considering dead and live loads, and determining if structural reinforcement is needed.

This guide details the critical steps for a structural load analysis of PV racking, from wind load calculations to assessing your roof's capacity for a secure solar installation.

To think carefully about (something), especially before making a decision; I needed more time to consider my options. We considered taking the train instead of the bus.
