

The D.C. Solar Solution Program is backed by financing to pay upfront for the solar install costs, in exchange it will handle all the incentives to provide property owners a zero cost solution upfront.

The District offers residents free solar panel installation on their home. Your household may be eligible if you live in DC and your income is below the program limits.

There are multiple payment options to pay for your solar panels including loans or cash.

This guide will walk you through all the major solar incentives and policies available to D.C. residents in 2025. We'll clarify how each program works, who's eligible, and how they contribute ...

Here's the thing - DC offers the highest and most stable SREC prices in the nation, and you can cash in your SRECs for thousands of dollars annually from your solar system.

With the financial incentives available in DC, we estimate homeowners will pay off their loans in three to five years. Some solar providers offer incredibly low interest rates -- but they're not ...

Electric costs in Washington, D.C., will cost you $67,400 over the next 25 years. In DC, however, installing a solar system will pay for itself in 4.77 years. Additionally, solar lease/PPA finance may ...

Washington D.C. solar incentives like tax credits and rebates allow you to save money when you go solar - learn which incentives are available.

There are several types of financial incentives available that can help you go solar. This section primarily covers the solar incentives available in DC, but you can learn more about national ...

We offer multiple financing paths to make solar accessible and affordable. Own your system with affordable monthly payments and no money down. Homeowners who want to own their system and ...

Web: <https://www.thehibiscuscoast.co.za>